Dear Congressman Royce:

My name is Richard Chichakli; I am an American citizen, an honorably discharged disabled US Army veteran, a husband, a father, college lecturer, and a CPA serving taxpayers and small businesses in North Texas community. I am writing to you concerning your statement made in regards to the extradition of Viktor Bout.

On April 26, 2005 I was included in OFAC SDN list on allegation that I was an employee of the alleged world-spanning empire of Victor Bout. An empire that I was allegedly managing its day-to-day operations while I was a soldier in the US Army, an Employee of the US DOJ, a lecturer in US universities, a full-time student, and a CPA managing 500 client practices in Texas. Congressman, I wonder how awkward your call for justice may sound when people know that you were one of those aborted the US constitution by denying me my constitutional right to stand trial.

Congressman is it possible that you have been listening to one side only, and I wonder, for you being a man of fairness, principles, and conviction, if you are ready to hear the complete story. I was sanctioned without being given a chance to speak or to defend myself, that is what the WORLD and Russia sees and I wonder how you would expect them to react to your call for the extradition of Bout. Congressman, EVERYTHING you know about Bout's operations came from sources and persons who never personally knew Victor Bout or seen much of his operations! Is that strange coincidence or is something planned? Your subcommittee heard from people who invented the Bout story and is benefiting from it, but you never called anyone who actually saw, spoke to, and seen the records of Viktor Bout?

Congressman, if you are interested in getting the facts and seeing the entire picture, I can help. However, if this is just politics and the fallacious version is something should remain despite that you are fully aware of its possible falsity, then that will explain why the Congress in 2005 invited witnesses like Douglas Farah to testify about persons he has never seen, and a matter he is not qualified for while neglecting to summon me to testify, after all you alleged that I am the most knowledgeable about Viktor Bout. I am writing you asking for a hearing, a trial in a US court of law under the US constitution, a chance to be heard without the politics and a chance to clear my name.

Respectfully

Richard A. Chichakli
